WAR EXPANDS DOMAIN OF "NEW GERMAN KAISER"

Control of Iron and Coal Give Stinnes Upper Hand

HE CURES SICK BUSINESS

Crafty Deals Give Him Control of Vast Wealth

By MILTON BRONNER—BERLIN—(Special)—When the German empire was formed, the Hohenzollerns could put into the common pot the Kingdoms of Prussia over which they ruled. To this was added the Kingdoms of Bavaria and Württemberg, the Duchy of Baden and dozens of little principalities all ruled over by kings, dukes and princes. Then the Hohenzollern king became German emperor.

Hugo Stinnes, Germany's undisputed business emperor, started before the war with two kingdoms of coal and the kingdom of iron. And to this he has since added various duchies and principalities in commodities over which no others but himself is ruler.

He grasped early in his business career what the nations only fully learned after the great war started—all modern life, all its necessities, all its conveniences, all its comforts are a pyramid of which the base is coal. Place iron on top of the coal and you at once have almost all the needful.

So Stinnes began with coal. He secured control of many of the best coal mines in the rich Ruhr. Like his grandfather he continued the building of tugs and barges to convey his own coal up and down the rivers to his own coal yards.

He became the ruling power in the Rhine-Westphalia Coal Syndicate which in its great brick palace at Essen regulates the production, price and market of practically all the coal dug in the Rhine and Westphalia. And it is done openly. The coal barons don't have to dodge the law to accomplish their purpose.

READY FOR CHANCE
Having fortified himself in the coal business, Stinnes long before the war was in a position for his next strategic move which was a big invasion of the iron and steel trade. He loaded his heavy guns with money and with coal.

There is this to be said for Stinnes—he goes forward not by crushing or wrecking opponents. He is a constructor. He takes sick businesses and cures them of what ails them. He takes weak businesses and makes them bigger. He likes to take two mills produce where only one did before. That gives more work to Germans and enriches both Germany and Stinnes.

Back in the nineties a weak blast furnace corporation in Luxemburg and another in Bochum, Germany, were united in one organization, which was just as weak. It lost money for its stockholders.

Then in 1901 Stinnes came into the field. He formed the German Luxemburg Mining and Smelting Corporation with a capital of only one million marks. He took over the weak corporation just mentioned. In less than a year the net concern increased its capital to 25 millions and in 1910 to 60 million marks.

Under Stinnes' leadership it bought some stock in big coal mining companies in the Saar and the Moselle valleys and thus assured a cheap coal supply. Then it gobbled up a Dortmund company and rocketed its capital to 100 million marks.

Stinnes was showing himself the German Napoleon of industrial finance. But it was not actual possessions, but based upon actual finance. It was based upon actual finance. It was based upon actual finance. It was based upon actual finance.

WHAT MILLION MEN MEANS

Hugo Stinnes, industrial wizard, and the uncrowned "new Kaiser of Germany," employs a million men.

Walking single file, four feet apart, at an average gait, it would take these men 11 days and nights to march past their employer.

The magnitude of Stinnes' enterprises, compared with American "big business," is shown by the fact that:

Total employees in the American coal industry number 740,000.

The Bell Telephone system employs 225,000 men.

The U. S. Steel Corporation employs 275,000 men.

Henry Ford employs 75,000 men.

The Standard Oil of New Jersey employs 60,000 men.

M'GANNON MUST GO TO PRISON

Supreme Court Refuses to Hear Ex-Judge's Case

UNUSUAL CRIMINAL BATTLE

Convicted of Perjury as Result of Murder Trial

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press) — William H. McGannon, former chief justice of the Cleveland municipal court, will have to serve his sentence of one to ten years in the Ohio penitentiary for perjury as a result of the refusal today of the Ohio supreme court to hear his case.

Refusal of the supreme court to review the McGannon case ends one of the most unusual criminal court battles in the history of Ohio.

Soon after his acquittal he was again indicted for perjury in connection with his testimony at his murder trial. The jury at his perjury trial brought in a verdict of guilty after it had deliberated 27 hours and the former chief justice of the Cleveland municipal court was sentenced to the penitentiary by Judge Florence Allen, Ohio's first woman judge of a common pleas court.

McGannon has been out on bail pending an appeal of his case to the higher courts.

McGannon has served a 30-day jail term, for alleged contempt of court, as a result of the labyrinth of legal moves that resulted from the original indictment.

The steps in the McGannon case: November 26, 1920—Indictment; November 27—McGannon pleaded not guilty. Released on $10,000 bond.

December 14—McGannon's first trial began.

December 31—Jury disagreed.

February 7—Second trial begun.

February 18—McGannon acquitted of murder charge.

April 14—McGannon indicted on charge of perjury in connection with his testimony at his murder trial. Seven other witnesses in the trial also indicted.

April 16—McGannon surrendered after a warrant for his arrest had been issued for two days. Pleading not guilty and was released on $5,000 bail.

May 2—Judge Florence E. Allen set the perjury trial for May 9, despite plea of McGannon's relatives that he was too ill to stand trial.

May 6—McGannon charged with contempt of court, by County Prosecutor Stanton.

May 9—Failed to appear for trial and his bail forfeited. Doctors at rest cure sanitarium said he couldn't stand trial for two months.

May 11—Trial which had been set for May 12, was postponed to May 16. Physicians appointed by Judge Allen said that McGannon was not too ill to stand trial. McGannon was taken from the sanitarium by deputy sheriffs. Later he was released on $5,000 bail. Trial postponed to May 20.

May 19—Trial postponed to May 23.

May 23—McGannon's trial on perjury charge started.

June 1—Perjury trial halted when Judge Powell was informed that a woman juror had expressed an opinion against McGannon. New trial date June 9. Attorney Cartwright filed affidavit of prejudice against Judge Powell in Ohio supreme court.

June 9—Perjury trial, postponed to June 13.

June 13—Second perjury trial begun.

June 25—Jury returned a verdict of guilty after it had deliberated 27 hours. Judge Allen sentenced McGannon to from one to ten years in Ohio penitentiary. Twenty-day stay of execution granted.

October 4—Found guilty of contempt of court by Common Pleas Judge Day of Canton. Sentenced to 20 days in jail and fined $100. Case appealed.

December 13—Appellate court refused to hear McGannon's appeal on contempt charge. McGannon ordered to jail. Deputy sheriffs reported they could not find him.

December 14—McGannon surrendered and began 30-day sentence which he completed.

March 18, 1922—Three judges of Fourth Appellate District ruled against McGannon in his appeal in perjury case. Given 30-day stay of execution so he might appeal to supreme court.

LIONS POURING IN ENTIRE AREA OF FROM ALL POINTS ULSTER RAIDED

Advance Guard Here For Big Convention, Wednesday

PRAISE FOR THE LIMA NEWS

Akron Members Doff Hats to Effort of Lion Roarers

Lions from other parts of the state were beginning to roar in the jungles of Lima Tuesday afternoon. They are arriving for the state confab of the Lions clubs which opens here Wednesday.

Those arriving first drove thru in automobiles. Several hundred are expected to visit the city in this way.

Delegations from Akron, Cincinnati, Canton and other cities will arrive in special cars late Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning.

PRAISE FROM AKRON
High praise for the Lima Lions and The Lima News was expressed in a telegram received by R. E. Ashley, president of the Lima club, from the Akron club. It reads as follows:

"One Hundred Akron Lions doff their hats to Lima and congratulate you on superb special section Lima News just received. Close to 50 of us will arrive on two special sleepers Wednesday morning. Akron's mayor, D. C. Rybolt, coming with us. You are setting a fast pace for us in 1923."

It was signed by Edward L. Babcock, president Akron Lions club.

The special section of The Lima News mentioned in the telegram was a part of Sunday's edition and was one of the most complete special sections ever issued by any newspaper in Lima.

Final preparations for the accommodation of the 1,000 or more visitors who will be here Wednesday were being made by the Lima Lions Tuesday. Every member of the club is a member of a committee and is working for the success of the convention.

Much depends on the reception accorded the visitors as to whether Lima is to become one of the convention cities of the state, the Lions feel, and no stone is being left unturned to make the meet a success in every way.

Sentators Atlee Pomerene and Frank B. Willis will be among the well known speakers to be present and address the convention. Pomerene will speak in the morning and Willis at the evening banquet.

FEATURES PLANNED
A parade, luncheon, banquet and grand ball are among the regular features of the convention activities. Special entertainment features for the women visitors are also being planned by the Lima Lionesses.

Sessions of the convention will open Wednesday morning at 10 a. m. at the Sigma theatre. A half-hour pipe organ concert will precede the official opening.

Afternoon sessions and the banquet and the grand ball in honor of Governor O. C. Norton, chief of the Ohio district, will be held at the Elks home.

Convention headquarters will be at the Barr hotel and the women's activities will center there.

102 LOST IN SHIP DISASTER

232 Saved From Wreck of the Steamer Egypt

BREST, France — (Associated Press) — The British vice consul here today announced that 102 of those who were on board the British steamship Egypt sunk off the Island of Ushant Saturday night, are missing, of whom 16 were passengers and 86 members of the crew. Twenty-eight passengers were saved, together with 204 members of the crew.

Mrs. M. L. Sibley and Miss V. M. Boyer, American missionaries, are among those missing and presumably lost. Many of the dead brought in by boats were wearing life belts; they had evidently died from exhaustion.

The fog was so thick off Ushant Island at the time of the collision between the Egypt and the French freighter Seine that the inhabitants of the islands in the region had been living for three days in almost complete darkness, with all outdoor work suspended. The sudden rise in temperature in northern France is given as the reason for unusually heavy fog.

Accounts of the disaster given by survivors and the captains' reports indicate that the loss of life would have been much smaller had not the fog been so thick as to hamper the rescuers.

Sailors on the French steamer declare they observed several struggles between survivors for places of safety on pieces of wreckage.

FOUND DEAD IN BED
DELPHOS — Alfred D. Clark, 82, was found dead in his bed at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. E. McKinnon. Death resulted from a carbuncle on the neck of the aged man.

DEATH OF MRS. ETZKORN
DELPHOS — Mrs. Anthony Etzkorn, 83, died at the home of her son, Louis Etzkorn, at Landeck, near here, from dropsy. She was a native of Germany.

BACK TO JULIUS CAESAR

SEATTLE — Judge Neterer went back to Julius Caesar's day for the precedent under which Agnes Claffy, aged 15, has fallen heir to $9000 left by her uncle, Clarence Swank, killed in action in the Argonne.

Before crossing the ocean to fight Swank took out a war risk policy, the money to go to his mother if he fell. Later, his mother being old, he bequeathed him that she might die first, so wrote from France that he wanted his niece to be his heiress if she did. In a day or two he was slain. His mother followed a few days later.

Deeming his bequest to Miss Claffy too informal to notice, the war risk bureau inclined to pay the insurance money to Swank's brothers and sisters.

In deciding the case, Judge Neterer said: "Thruout history, since the days of Julius Caesar, the will made by a soldier killed in time of duty, though scrawled on his scabbard or his shield, or scratched in the sand, has always been carried out."

C. W. WALTERS CHOSEN HEAD OF CHILDREN'S HOME; WIFE MATRON

Successors to Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Higby Named

ASSUME DUTIES ON JUNE 1

New Incumbent Has Been Traveling Salesman

C. W. Walters, 1325 W. Elm-st., has been appointed superintendent of the Allen-Go Children's Home. His wife has been named as matron of the home.

The action was taken at a meeting of members of the board of trustees, held Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Walters will assume their duties at the institution June 1. They will succeed Mr. and Mrs. David Higby, resigned.

LONG RESIDENTS HERE
Mr. and Mrs. Walters are of middle age. They resided in Lima, then moved to Spencerville and returned to Lima several years ago. For two years they resided on W. Spring-st. and then moved to their present location on W. Elm-st.

Walters is a traveling salesman. They are members of the First Baptist church, Lima. They have no children of their own, their two children having died in infancy.

The meeting at which the selection was made was attended by all the members, according to Mrs. Lucinda Apple, member of the board of trustees. Mrs. Apple refused to say where the meeting was held.

David Higby, outgoing superintendent and secretary of the board of trustees, under the law, was not advised of the meeting and did not attend the session, it is said. Usually meetings are held at the Children's Home.

HIGHEST IN LIST
Besides Mrs. Apple, W. C. Brennehan, W. Elm-st.; Mrs. C. C. Kitts, S. Cole-st. and Thomas Grubb, Amanda-st., are members. Brennehan and Mrs. Kitts were out of the city Tuesday and could not be reached. Grubb was absent from his farm home and could not be communicated with.

Mr. and Mrs. Walters stood highest on the list of three, certified to the board of trustees as eligible for appointment to the position.

MAIL THEFTS ARE CLEARED UP

Plots Admitted by New York Postoffice Employees

49 CRIMINALS ON PAYROLL

Discoveries Made by Acting Postmaster General Bartlett

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Discovery thru "finger printing" that 49 of the 460 employees of the registry division of the New York postoffice had criminal records was reported to President Harding today by Acting Postmaster General Bartlett upon his return from an investigation of the New York office. All of the 49 have been dropped from the service, Mr. Bartlett said.

The acting postmaster general told the president the discovery came during his inquiry into the arrest last Thursday of seven employees of the office which arrest, postal officials assert, cleared up postal robberies extending over the last six months and involving nearly $2,000,000. The arrests also are said to have thwarted a gigantic robbery planned for last Friday night in the registry division itself.

Mr. Bartlett declared that the men arrested had admitted that they had secured employment in the registry division for the purpose of robbing the mails.

PRINTS ARE MADE
Mr. Bartlett said that he had ordered that all of the 15,000 employees of the New York postoffice be required to have finger print impressions made. Both Postmaster Morgan and himself, he added, "were finger printed" and he was of the opinion that such a step would be of benefit to the service, eliminating the untrustworthy and protecting the great bulk of honest employees.

Mr. Bartlett will return to New York the latter part of the week to conclude his investigations after which it was said to be likely that he would visit the Chicago postoffice where numerous thefts, it was said, had occurred recently in the registry and mail order divisions.

FORD IS BOOMED FOR PRESIDENCY

Will be Formally Launched at Detroit Tonight

DETROIT — (Associated Press) — A public mass meeting to organize a "Henry Ford for President" club will be held tonight in Dearborn, Detroit suburb, and the home of the automobile manufacturer.

The basic idea back of the meeting, it was said by leaders in the movement, is to bring about the candidacy of Mr. Ford on an independent ticket at the next general election.

Tentative plans for the meeting were announced by a group of Mr. Ford's fellow townsmen. Posters announcing the meeting appeared in public places at Dearborn today.

At the offices of Mr. Ford in Dearborn, knowledge of the meeting either than that the posters had been observed, was denied.

William F. Kromberg, editor of a Dearborn newspaper, declared an effort would be made to induce Mr. Ford to run for the presidency on a platform of which "honest currency" would be one of the planks.

MEETING BARRED

Governor Orders Ban on Ku Klux Gathering at Akron

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press) — A proposed meeting of the Ku Klux Klan in the state armory at Akron tomorrow night will not be permitted, Adjutant General Florence stated today.

At the state governor's office it was stated that Governor Davis was of the opinion that state armories should not be used by any sect for activity against another and that he had notified the adjutant general not to permit the armories to be used by the Ku Klux Klan.

Adjutant General Florence when shown Akron despatches to the effect that Armory Custodian Price had not received orders not to permit the meeting, said that Price had been warned. "The Ku Klux Klan meeting will not be held in the armory," Adjutant General Florence said.

SIDEURNS TAKE PLACE OF CHAPLIN MUSTACHE

TOLEDO — Girls may have their hair bobbed, marcelled and permanently waved and enjoy most of the hair dressers' manipulations, but now they have rivals in style in the hair-dressers, who have gone in for sideburns.

First it was the Chaplin mustache style, which has passed into the discard. Sideburns claim the attention of Toledo barbers now and the sickly powdered youth who falls to grow a crop of them is sadly neglecting to keep up with the fashion.

EXHAUSTED CARRIER PIGEON AT KALIDA

An exhausted carrier pigeon was picked up by Kirby Brothers, Kalida, and is being held by them pending its being claimed by its owners, if they live in Ohio.

A tag 1292, A. J. 21-B. P. C., was found on the pigeon's right leg, Kirby Brothers say, and the bird does not appear to be hurt in any way.

If there are no calls for the pigeon it will be released.

BODY SEARED BY COSSACK LASH

(Former Russian Radical Bears Marks From Siberia)

SPEAKER AT MEETING HERE

Is Against Sentiment He Formerly Espoused

Education of the worker and the alien along economic lines is urged by Zelman Kalmanovitz, former radical propagandist, as the only method of meeting and defeating the spread of radicalism.

Kalmanovitz, whose name has been changed to James B. Horn, spoke at a luncheon at the Elks home Tuesday noon, held under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce and the city luncheon clubs.

"Each worker must be shown that an equalization of the classes will mean the lowering of all classes to the plane of the lowest one and not the raising of the lowest to the level of the highest," he said.

"This can be done by a type of education which will go into the homes of the workers and will be in such simple and clear language that its message cannot be misunderstood," Horn asserted.

"It must explain the features of our government and economic system which make it the tremendous success it is. It must show that individualism is of more importance than socialism," he said.

WAS RADICAL IN RUSSIA

Horn was a radical while a college student in Russia and at one time belonged to several of the strongest and most feared nihilist societies. It was activity of this kind which caused his exile to Siberia by the Czar.

One of these societies was known as the "Flying Tie." Its members practiced throwing a weapon made of a thin copper wire with a weight at each end.

"When properly handled it would choke the person attacked and would often sever the head from the body," Kalmanovitz said. This was used chiefly on the Russian police, he added.

"In Siberia he was chained to a wheelbarrow and forced to work in the mines for eight months. A companion was also chained to the wheelbarrow and the two worked together," he said.

"When his companion died Horn was forced to haul the dead body around in the wheelbarrow for three days before a blacksmith could be found to remove the chains from the dead man."

Radicalism was impressed on Horn's mind by the conditions in Russia. The people were in slavery and the oppression of the upper classes was very heavy.

BEARS MARKS OF WHIP

Horn bears marks made by the Cossack whip. The lash made a cut in his right thigh several inches long and clear to the bone. It was only by quick work that Horn was saved from bleeding to death, he says.

"I have seen the government officers take a hundred girls from the best families, to the market place, strip them and subject them to a public whipping merely to show authority," Horn says.

It was acts like these which brought Horn into sympathy with the radical movement in England and the United States. Arriving here he became associated with Emma Goldman, Dr. Ben Ritman and others.

These three traveled together for six years through the country preaching radicalism. At San Jose, California, the three were seized by a mob and tarred and feathered.

"Horn speaks eight languages and for that reason was in demand whenever a meeting of foreign radicals was to be held. He never bothered to learn English until several years ago, he said.

"About four years ago Horn began to doubt whether the things he was preaching were practical and began a deep study to learn the truth. It was while in the hospital at Bridgeport, Connecticut, that he finally saw his mistake, he says.

RADICAL PAPERS IN U. S.

He immediately associated himself with those working to counteract the teachings of the radicals and has been telling his story and giving his solution of affairs ever since.

There are 416 radical papers in the United States and they are financed by a fund of more than $15,000,000 in their attempt to stir up trouble and bring about communism in this country, Horn asserts.

In order to counteract this influence it will be necessary for all organizations to get together and tell the workers the truth regarding economic conditions and laws, Horn believes.

Horn left Tuesday afternoon for Lancaster, where he will speak Wednesday.

A. J. GRAY THROWS HAT IN RING FOR RETURN AS COUNTY COMMISSIONER

A. J. Gray, serving the short term as a member of the county board of commissioners, threw his hat in the ring Tuesday and filed his announcement as a candidate for re-election on the G. O. P. ticket.

His announcement was the lone one to be filed at the office of the election board during the morning. Thus far, no opposition has developed in the Republican camp.

A contest has developed on the Democratic side of the fence, however.

June 8 is the last day for filing. Candidates who are going to run in the preliminary heat, are warning up, according to A. J. Morris, clerk of the board.

"They'll be dropping in lively from now on," he believes.

WOMAN'S CHARGES AGAINST CAMPBELL WILL BE AIDED

Charges preferred by Laura Harvey against Sylvester Campbell have been set for hearing by a jury before Judge Fred Beck in common pleas court Wednesday.

The action is of a quasi-criminal nature and is being pushed by the state on behalf of the plaintiff.

SHOWERS DUE FOR WEDNESDAY

More showers in sight, but Ted prefers to get his from the sprinkling can, for the benefit of his flower garden about the family domicile.

Increasing cloudiness, followed by showers Wednesday and in the west portion tonight. There is, however, to be little change in temperature.

It's fine weather for most any sort of outdoor activity, including the tearing up of the interior of the editorial room of a newspaper office for extensive changes in arrangement. The carpenters scattering tools and material about underfoot in a reckless fashion, to the detriment of the typewriter squad in telling the day's news story.

DAUGHERTY FIGHT BACK IN HOUSE

Johnson, Woodruff Demand Action on War Graft

VOTE ON RESOLUTION ASKED

Attorney General May Reply to Charges

(BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT)

WASHINGTON—(United Press)

The bi-partisan attack in congress on Attorney General Daugherty shifted back to the house today with Representatives Woodruff, Michigan, and Johnson, South Dakota, Republicans, serving notice on Republican leaders that further delay in allowing the house to take action on their resolution for an inquiry as to why war grafters have not been punished, "will only result in more exposures unfavorable to the administration."

Johnson said he and Woodruff would warn house leaders at a conference today that unless the house acts soon, the resolution will be introduced in the senate, where it would undoubtedly provoke a long and bitter discussion because of the charges made against Daugherty by Senator Caraway of Arkansas.

WON'T WAIT LONG

Johnson intimated that a Republican senator had agreed to lay the war fraud resolution before the senate.

"We are going to the house leaders," Johnson told the United Press, "to try to make them see that it will be futile to attempt to stave off the investigation. Woodruff and I have made arrangements to have the resolution introduced in the senate, where we know there would be prompt action."

"We will wait a little while longer, maybe two or three days, and then if the house is not allowed to vote for or against the investigation the fireworks will start at the other end of the capitol and will be renewed at this end. We are determined to get action and our patience is just about exhausted."

DAUGHERTY MAY REPLY

The threat of immediate introduction of a war fraud resolution in the senate where the atmosphere is already fired to red hot pitch by Caraway's yet unanswered charges against Attorney General Daugherty, is regarded by Woodruff and Johnson as their most effective weapon to force action in the house.

Besides the endless debate that would result in the upper branch the resolution would interfere with progress on the tariff bill and seriously hinder the senate's efforts toward a midsummer adjournment.

There were indications that Daugherty at his scheduled conference with the press late this afternoon, would make a reply to Caraway.

Meanwhile, actual prosecution of alleged war grafters seemed to be nearing.

Under the bill recently passed by congress providing for an additional grand jury here to hear cases against those charged with defrauding the government, Chief Justice McCoy of the district supreme court today ordered the summoning of jurymen. The jury probably will be completed late today.

D. C. HENDERSON SUES FOR $14,000 ATTORNEY FEE

Legal action instituted in common pleas court by D. C. Henderson against W. A. Norton and others to collect counsel fees estimated at $14,000, went to trial before a jury Tuesday.

In addition to Norton, R. L. Miller, R. W. Valls, A. W. Green and F. W. Durbine are named defendants. Henderson alleges that the attorney fee is due him for services in connection with the reorganization of the Champion Engineering Co., of Kenton. Stock, the par value of which was $150,000, was floated.

NO CLUE IN THEFT

Police have thus far been able to find no tangible clue as to the identity of the parties who stole a thousand pounds of corned beef from a building on the Frank Conucci farm, Shawnee-rd reported Tuesday.

ROBBERIES RAFFLED POLICE

Police are baffled by two burglars reported to the department Tuesday. Thieves entered the home of D. N. Morris, 730 W. North-st and secured $40. At the residence of L. N. Applas, in the same street, a $50 watch was taken.

ANTI-RED DETAILS REFORMATION

Kalmanovitz Says Education is Cure For Unrest

SEES BOLSHEVISM FAILURE

Native of Russia Addresses Lima Assembly

Education concerning the basic fundamentals of the United States was pointed out by Zelman Kalmanovitz, reformed bolshevist, as the only cure for unrest and dissension today, before a joint meeting of civic clubs and Chamber of Commerce Tuesday.

The auditorium at the Elks' home was filled to hear the message of one of the former reddest of the reds. He drew cheer after cheer as he told the story of his life and concluded with his conception of what is to be realized.

WAS DISILLUSIONED

His reception by a leading socialist was described and he told how he was disillusioned by tales of this leader concerning the freedom of America. He set out to preach his red doctrine and did it from coast to coast, preaching all the time he was not in jail. The story of his finally seeing the light and the matters which lead up to it was most interesting.

The first thing that troubled him concerning the fallacy of his doctrine was the realization that high wages meant merely high prices and that none profited. Then came the government operation of railroads, one of the hobbies of bolshevism. He saw efficiency decrease and cost mount and he was troubled further concerning his creed.

Then came the greatest test of all for his theories—the overthrow of the czar and the setting up of a bolshevist government in Russia, with all the ideals and opportunities he had hoped to see adopted. And his failure shocked him.

"REBORN" A YEAR AGO

Even when the red government of Russia went to smash and was as dismal a failure as adherents had predicted it would be a success, he was not thoroughly convinced that his understanding was wrong. But glaring examples of its inadequacy kept piling up until he was convinced that his theory would not apply in government and he was what he termed "reborn" a little more than a year ago.

The speaker urged every American to further education, not in the class rooms entirely, but by teaching the provisions of our constitution to all men and women. Establishment of competitive initiative and all things that will further it and not lead to inactivity and laziness under the theory that it provides work for more men was advised as was also the opportunity for every man to get ahead.

LIONS PARADE TO START WEDNESDAY FROM PUBLIC SQUARE; PLANS FORMING

Co-operation of Lima citizens is being asked by the Lions Club in the clearing of the northwest portion of the public square at noon Wednesday.

It is planned to assemble all the delegates to the state convention of Lions clubs in this portion of the square and make it the starting point of the parade.

Permission has been obtained from the police department and it is now asked that citizens refrain from parking in this portion of the square until after the parade has started.

A number of automobiles are needed for the parade. The women visitors will ride in the automobiles. Drivers without cars are also needed to drive cars of those who cannot drive their own cars because of the press of business.

Members of the Lima Automobile association are co-operating with the Lions in arranging for the necessary automobiles for the noon parade.

MANSFIELD STUDENT WINS ALLEN COUNTY BAR AWARD

Harold A. Sowash, Mansfield, has been awarded the $25 scholarship prize offered by the Allen County Bar Association to the member of the senior class of Ohio Northern university at Ada for the best essay on "Legal Ethics."

Sowash's subject was "The Bar of Tomorrow." He is a world war veteran. Judges were: M. L. Becker, W. B. Kirk and E. E. Everett. Ralph P. Mackenzie is president of the association.

DRAMATIC SOCIETY IS PLANNED BY PLAYERS

Success of St. John's players in "A Night of Fun," given before large audiences at St. John's auditorium Sunday and Monday, has resulted in efforts to organize a regularly constituted dramatic society.

Plans were discussed at a supper held at the close of the play, Monday night. Rev. Father Conrad Plumana, pastor of St. John's, and Rev. Father Charles Schumaker, assistant, were guests.

JUDGMENT ON NOTES

Judgment for non-satisfaction of three notes was awarded the Farmers' Savings Bank, against V. G. and Alice Replogle, in common pleas court Tuesday. The total principal due was represented to be $2,184.

LINE IN PRISON; DIVORCE ASKED

Wife Seeks Separation on Grounds of Desertion

Disillusioned by the conduct of her husband, whom she alleges deserted her as she lay ill in a Miami, Florida hospital, Mrs. Cecil Line, instituted divorce action in common pleas court Tuesday, naming Kent Line, taxi-driver, defendant.

She recites that when she married she had $275 in a building and loan company. Line induced her to draw out the amount and accompany him to Michigan, she said. They spent the money in four weeks. Then he left her, to return to Lima alone, the petition alleges.

Various separations occurred from the time of the wedding March 1, 1920, until October, when they went to Florida.

Line drove a taxi and his wife says she took in washing, altho in a delicate condition at the time.

While she was in a hospital in April, 1921, Line came north. She followed on money borrowed from her parents. Line subsequently was convicted at Ottawa in connection with stealing a car and received a three year sentence, it is stated.

She asks a decree, with suitable alimony.

Bernard Chambrd, W. Elm-st, in a suit for divorce filed Tuesday, alleges his wife Luetta deserted him without cause, in 1918, and has never returned.

APPEAL ORDERED IN GAS RATE CONTROVERSY; CITY TO FIGHT PHONE CHARGE

Members of the city commission Monday night authorized the city solicitor to ask for a rehearing of the public utilities commission's $1 gas award and if this fails, to appeal the case to the supreme court.

Four voted in favor of the rehearing. Brockbridge remained silent. The formal request or the appeal whichever is necessary will be prepared immediately, it was said.

A hearing will be given in the state supreme court Wednesday of the city's appeal of the increased telephone rates granted by the state utilities commission. This appeal was authorized by the late city council.

So popular are these dresses for street and afternoon that we have ordered and re-ordered them.

Of course there are some very trim styles in cheerful plaids that are particularly perky for about the house, but you can easily imagine yourself playing bridge or an afternoon even in some of these Gingham Frocks; sashes, vestees and folds of organdie have so dressed them up. The colors are softer than usual too; an ivory ground plaided in delicate mimosa yellow or a subdued canna for instance. They're sure to please you and you'll make no mistake in choosing at least three.

GIRLS DROP TOYS TO PUT UP RADIO SETS

Girls are laying aside their dolls and jumping ropes for radio.

They are trying with boys for honors as radio fans. They are making their own sets. And they're learning all about the new science, too.

School authorities in all parts of the country report interest in wireless not only by the boy pupils but by the girls as well. Y. M. C. A. radio schools also report several girl students in their classes.

Call-Letter System Helps Shorten Radio Messages

Even tho you know the wireless code, you may be puzzled by some of the signals being flashed from one station to another.

These signals, or letter combinations, form a separate call code and should be learned as thoroughly as the dot and dash system. They help to shorten messages between stations.

Each signal, it will be noticed, begins with a Q. That is the introductory or warning letter for the actual message in the rest of the combination. A question mark after each combination changes its meaning to a question.

The abbreviations, or "calls," that are used most frequently among licensed amateurs and professional operators follow:

Gasoline

Mechanical Conditions Affecting Best Results from Gasoline
Running Gear
Automotive engineers estimate that only about 60 to 75% of the power actually developed by the automobile motor reaches the driving wheels and propels the car. 25 to 40% is lost in heat radiation and in overcoming the friction of the mechanism itself in motor and chassis. It is obvious therefore that a free running chassis will contribute to the efficiency of the car and conserve power—gasoline.

The entire chassis or running gear of a car should be inspected periodically to insure these conditions:

1. Correct adjustment and lubrication of all wheel bearings.
2. Correct lubrication of transmission gears. (Requires lighter lubricant in winter.)
3. Correct lubrication of universal joints.
4. Correct lubrication of driving and differential gears. (Requires lighter lubricant in winter.)
5. Correct adjustment of brakes to prevent dragging.

Gaslight Combustion Chamber

A frequent cause of power waste and therefore of gasoline waste is found in the failure of the combustion chamber in the cylinder to completely hold the charge of gas when the piston comes up on the compression stroke. The modern automobile motor is a high compression motor and to prepare the charge for the explosion or power stroke the gas is compressed to a pressure of from 65 to 90 pounds per square inch varying with different types of motor. Leakage of the power charge

VITAMINE TEST IN STOCK FEEDING

Campaign is Planned Among Farmers by Farm Bureau

MINERAL SALTS ARE NEEDED

Plan to Add Weight to Animals With Less Cost

In these days when science is talking in terms of vitamins and mineral salts for balancing the diet of human beings, it is not remarkable that agricultural experimenters have applied the same tests to animals.

Most of the important experiments have been made at the Iowa experiment station, although much work has been done at Ohio State University along the same line, H. J. Ridge, county farm agent, says.

When the animals now domesticated were wild and roamed at will they were able to balance their own ration and obtain all the elements necessary for their growth, Ridge points out.

On the modern farm, however, the animals are confined and eat only what is given them by their owners. In this way they fail to get many of the elements which aid proper growth, it has been found.

A campaign is being planned by the Allen-co Farm Bureau to acquaint farmers with the value of feeding a mineral mixture of some kind to their animals and to increase its use. During the educational campaign the results obtained in Iowa will be shown.

MINERAL SALT TEST

It is also planned to test the mineral salts in connection with the Iowa pig clubs throughout the county and to observe the results obtained.

Principal minerals needed by animals are salt, raw bone meal, potash, sulphur, calcium carbonate, glaubers salts, epsom salts, copperas and iodine salts.

These may be fed to the animals separately or in a mixture of the proper proportions. The amount of each salt needed by an animal has been determined to a great extent by the various experiments.

Iowa experiments show the following consumption, in percentages, where animals are given free choice: Potassium chloride 36 per cent, raw bone meal 20 per cent, sulphur 12 per cent and other salts two per cent or less for each.

Bone meal yields phosphorus and is stored in the nerves, brain and tissues. It is essential to the proper growth of any animal. Potassium is found in all bone structures and the proper framework cannot be built in an animal if the ration lacks this salt.

Sulphur is a blood purifier, glaubers and epsom salts are an aid to digestion and an antidote for any poisoning from the animals eating mouldy food while copperas is a tonic suitable for all animals.

Animals fed a proper mineral mixture will produce more weight from a given amount of food than animals deprived of the mineral salts they need. Iowa experiments prove this, Ridge says.

EXPERIMENT RESULT
Two lots of hogs were fed until they had gained 100 pounds, one lot having fed mineral salts as a part of their ration and the other given straight ration without the salts.

It required 495 pounds of food to produce 100 pounds of weight among the animals not fed the mixture. Those which received the salts required only 270 pounds of food for the 100 pound weight gain.

Experiments made in Ohio bear out the results obtained in the Iowa tests and show that these salts are necessary to obtain the proper growth of any animal, Ridge states.

Mineral salts are differentiated from stock tonics which stimulate rather than supply the needed elements for animal growth. Too much stimulation is not good for any animal, Ridge points out.

A mineral mixture may be provided by the farmer or a number of farmers working together. It is the best plan to purchase it from a reliable dealer who will guarantee the purity of the chemicals used, Ridge believes.

CRIMINAL CHARGE FILED AGAINST WOMAN WITNESS IN ED SCHLATTER CASE

Acting on a tip that she was about to leave the city, police Monday night went to the home of Mrs. Frances Alexander, 31, colored, Irvin-st., to arrest her as a material witness in the case of Ed Schlatter, St. Elmas cafe proprietor, High and Union-sts. and by chance, they say, sufficient evidence was found to hold her and Garfield Williams, 23, Irvin-st., on statutory charges.

The pair was booked at police station and the woman released on $500 bond. Affidavits charging them with cohabiting from March 1 to May 22 were filed Tuesday in criminal court.

The cases were continued, that action being taken to insure the Alexander woman's presence at the Schlatter hearing, which was to take place Tuesday at 2 p. m. before Judge Emmett J. Jackson.

Schlatter faces two charges—pocket picking and a statutory offense—both being filed in criminal court on statements by H. C. Brooks, Columbus. Schlatter de-

COUNTY JAIL IS INADEQUATE

Twenty Prisoners, With Cells For Only Fifteen

Allen-co is boarding and lodging 20 men free of charge. But not from charitable motives.

The score of free boarders and lodgers are guests, not from their own volition, however, at the Allen-co jail.

The present population of the county "hoosegow," according to Sheriff Charles W. Baxter, is a few too many. The jail was built for 15. He has five extras.

As a consequence part of the number is required to double up. Sheriff Baxter says he does not like to put prisoners together, but prefers to have separate cells for all.

The jail's present population is not truly representative of the underworld. There are no rogues, dips, stick-ups, second story workers or the like behind the bars.

Petty thieves and the unfortunate who believed in personal liberty so far they were making and selling, and drinking intoxicants, constitute a majority of the inmates.

Woman Relied Upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Emporia, Kansas.—"I began using Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine years ago when I was a girl. For several years I had severe pains at menstrual periods, making me very weak and interfering with my regular duties. I tried several remedies without obtaining relief. I was induced to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound by friends and it restored me to normal health. I often have occasion and do recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to my own. You may use these facts as a testimonial."

EVA ALDRICH, 218 Union St., Emporia, Kansas.

There are many women who first used your Vegetable Compound during their girlhood days. They found it a valuable help during trying periods. In later years they use it whenever they feel those annoying symptoms which women often have.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a woman's medicine. It is prepared carefully from the best quality of medicinal plants, whose properties are especially adapted to correct the troubles women have.

DID WOMAN SLAY MOVIE MAN?

New Theories Advanced in Killing of Taylor

VALET IS STILL MISSING

Police Are Working Quietly On Murder Mystery

BY JACK JUNGMEYER

LOS ANGELES — (Special) — A dozen detectives from the city police and district attorney's office are still at work on the William Desmond Taylor murder mystery.

Elimination of official jealousies and better teamwork are expected to solve the killing of the $2000-a-week movie director shot Feb. 1 in his bachelor apartment in Hollywood.

Heretofore every suspicion and discussion have hampered the investigation.

One by one a score of hot trails have cooled. None of the 25 persons questioned has suggested definitely the key to the case. Half a dozen persons are still under surveillance. No trace of Edward Sands, Taylor's missing former valet, wanted for interrogation, has been found.

THEORIES HAVE FINALLY NARROWED TO THREE: That Taylor was killed by an unidentified soldier of his overseas command because of some wartime altercation. Taylor was a captain in the Canadian forces.

SECOND: That Sands, accused of twice robbing his employer, and by some investigators believed to be related to Taylor, can reveal the murderer's identity.

THIRD: That a woman relative of one of the director's girl friends, misinterpreting that friendship, killed Taylor with the idea that she was protecting the girl.

All have circumstantial weight as officers who respectively stress them.

The first and third theories are being exploited by Detectives E. C. King and J. A. Wynn of District Attorney Woolwine's forces; the second has been firmly held from the first by Captains of Detectives David Adams of the city police.

THIRD THEORY: The third is purely deductive, based on romantic episodes said to have been confided by Taylor to one of his few confidants and by him related to the police—a situation which was causing the film man intense worry. This theory has never before been publicly stated.

Taylor was shot apparently within a few minutes after he accompanied Mabel Normand, famous screen star, to her car at the curb. Save for the murderer, Miss Normand had been the last to visit him.

Other young screen beauties, including Nena Gerber, once his fiancée, and Mary Miles Minter, all professing high regard for Taylor, give police little information as to his past.

Against Sands he was inexplicably bitter.

Or a Canadian soldier he had said to a fellow officer in London, "There goes a man who swears he'll get me."

To another friend he had confided worry over an ardent infatuation with a young woman. He had told queer tales of his apartment having been invaded by a prowler during his absence.

A haunted man in a haunted house. Reticent, fearful, unmistakably lonely and aloof even among his closest friends. Laid out as it for a tier by the hand that took his life.

As strange a mosaic of fact, conjecture and puzzles as ever challenged detective genius.

"That act of arranging the body, the hands, the clothes," hazards Detective King, "was characteristic of a woman moved by a final show of tenderness after the death shot, fired within an inch of the body."

And then a "funny looking man," swathed in a muffler, walking calmly from the door under the eyes of Mrs. Douglas MacLean, a neighbor, leaving the lights burning all night over the corpse.

"Wasn't that person," asks King, "a woman disguised as a man?"

MOTHERHOOD HASTENS CRISIS, WIFE ASSERTS IN SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Motherhood hastened a crisis in the domestic affairs of Mrs. Nellie L. Mertz, she recites in a divorce petition filed in common pleas court Tuesday.

When her little daughter Thelma Mae was scarcely a week old, she alleges that her husband Ernest H. Mertz, deserted her on May 11, leaving her without funds or means of support.

Further than that, she charges that he left orders with grocers and marketmen in the vicinity not to allow her credit.

Prior to birth of the little girl, the wife relates that her husband was very angry and expressed the wish that both she and the baby would die.

On another occasion, she charges, he flourished a revolver, he says has a bad temper, and that it was accentuated by use of alcoholic beverages. They were married June 29, 1921.

The wife seeks a temporary allowance pending trial of the case and an allowance for counsel fees. She also asks care and custody of Thelma Mae.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING OFFICER HERE 2 DAYS

John Kane, Toledo, Federal vocational training officer, will be in Lima May 24 to 26 inclusive, to interview injured and disabled service men. He will be found at the Red Cross, corner of Elm and Elizabeth-sts.

Service men should see him and make claims, he states. Under a new ruling, no compensation will be awarded to anyone who has not instituted a claim prior to August 9, 1922.

TWO ARE FINER
W. J. O'Connor, 29, of 959 Brice-st., and Steve Haller, 48, of 959 Monticello-st., each received $15 from Judge Emmett J. Jackson Tuesday for drunkenness.

BANKERS' PARLEY SUGGESTED

World Conference at Washington Put up to Harding

WASHINGTON — (United Press) — Suggestion that an international conference of bankers be called in Washington to devise means of untangling the economic maze in Europe, has been made to President Harding by certain of his advisers, it became known today.

While the president's attitude on such a conference has not been divulged, it is thought by those in close touch with the administration that he will give the suggestion careful consideration.

The meeting would be another Washington conference with the subject shifted from excessive armaments to economic ills which are burdening the world, according to the plan of those who are pushing the movement.

The failure of the Genoa conference to arrive at any practical solution of the present difficulties is said to have given renewed stimulus to the idea and to have more definitely settled this means as the real path to economic rehabilitation.

Old world politics, so prevalent at Genoa, would be missing if the conference were held here.

Several outstanding factors, now realized both in Europe and this country, are said to have given rise to the plan suggested. Among them are:

A serious economic condition exists in Europe and the European powers have proven themselves unable to handle it. They need financial aid badly and will agree to almost any conditions to get it from the United States, which now holds the money bags of the world.

This country has personal interest in the billions of European debt and could force provisions for its payment at such a conference while arranging at the same time for aid to the nations.

RABBIT BREEDERS TO HOLD PICNIC JUNE 11

Plans for the first annual picnic of the Lima Rabbit and Cavy Breeders association have been completed. The picnic will be held the afternoon and evening of June 11 in Fairview Park. A rabbit dinner at 6 p. m. will be one of the events of the day.

An extensive exhibit will be made by the club at the Allen-co fair if they are able to obtain a tent from the fair board. A committee has been named to meet with the fair board to discuss the exhibit.

PICNICKING IN PEN

WAPAKONETA — Shacked to Harry Agenbroad, a city fireman and accompanied by Sheriff Bob Ewins, Charles Piening, slayer of Rev. Richard Schweitzer, pastor of St. Augustine Catholic church at Minster, was taken to the Ohio penitentiary Monday, to enter upon a life sentence.

FRUIT COMPANY HEAD DENIES GIN CHARGE

Denial was made in criminal court Tuesday by George Smead, 25, of 664 S. Elizabeth-st., proprietor of the Allen Fruit Co., 323 S. Main-st., that he is the owner of eight bottles of 155-proof gin extract which Officers Kipker and Blair allege they found at the store in an early Tuesday morning raid.

He pleaded not guilty, and trial was set for May 29. He was freed on bond.

MRS. MILLER DIES

DELPHOS — Mrs. Marion O. Miller, 41, died at the family home here. Survived by her husband and six children.

SOMEONE IS GOING TO TALK

By Detective Sergeant Edgar King District Attorney's Office, Los Angeles.

I am convinced that more than one person has guilty knowledge of the Taylor murder, and that this fact will eventually land the murderer or murderers.

The case has settled down into the long vigil between the law's officers and the slayer. Elapsed time in a case of this nature doesn't lessen the chances of success. Some day someone's going to drop a word, a hint.

Persons from all over the world are still writing us hundreds of letters, proffering suggestions and "solutions"—indicating the unflagging interest in the mystery. When a hint is dropped there are likely to be many listening ears, and it'll come flashing in to us. Taylor will be avenged.

Plans Formed to Secure Funds for Play Grounds

Plans have been completed by the Child Welfare association for Tag Day program next Saturday, by means of which they hope to fill the coffers of the association to carry on playground work the coming summer.

The buttons have arrived and are already in the hands of workers. The letters, "P. G. C." are emblazoned upon the button.

"The button is self-explanatory," Dr. Josephine Peirce, chairman of the Allen-co Welfare association, said Tuesday. "They will be very suitable to be worn for some weeks to come and proudly tell their story—that the donor has contributed to this worthy cause."

"In behalf of the children of the city, who need supervised work and play which the playgrounds provide, we are asking that every person in Lima will contribute. Much or little will be gratefully received," Dr. Peirce declared.

Memberships are coming in fairly well to Mrs. John W. Roby, chairman of the recreational department of the Welfare association and to Mrs. Chalmers Brown, secretary, they announce. Membership fee is one dollar a year and all persons interested in helping kiddies to thrive and become physically sound in body and mind, are asked to contribute, without further solicitation.

Headquarters for button day will be at the Harman store. Mrs. W. E. Bayly and Mrs. C. A. Bingham are in charge. Children who use the playgrounds in the summer will sell the buttons on Lima streets.

MONEY DOES NOT COUNT NOW

"What's Cash When You're in Love" Asks Countess.

SHE FINDS REAL ROMANCE

American Girl Elopes With Hungarian Nobleman.

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN
NEW YORK — (Special) —
"We're the wealthiest persons in the world—for we have each other!"

This the defy of the Count and Countess Zichy to deputy sheriffs who are trying to collect from the count a judgment for several hundred dollars returned against him as the result of an automobile accident.

have been soft for George Burton, have been soft for George Burton, son of the late millionaire brewer, whom the countess jilted on her wedding day to marry the count. But between a rich man whom she merely liked real well, and a count, harassed by a judgment for a few hundred dollars, whom she loved with all her heart, the countess—

"Well, only love matters," says she.

Anyhow, the count could clean up the judgment in 30 seconds if he had what's coming to him from his family's Hungarian estates. So there?

THEIR ROMANCE

The countess was Charlotte Gardiner Demarest, who divided her time between the younger sets of New York, London and Paris.

"All my life I dreamed about a real romance with a husband as handsome and chivalrous as knights of old," she said today. "But knightdom seemed to have gone to seed."

"I met the count after he came to America in 1920. He had been imprisoned for several years in Russian war camps. I wasn't much thrilled—at first. But he danced divinely and played tennis like a champion, and I was just beginning to sail abroad."

The count takes up the story.

"I am of the Hungarian nobility, but was reared in England. I was captured by the Russians during the war. After coming to America, I turned scenario and short story writer, insurance agent and automobile salesman."

By day he sold autos under the name of Edward Wright; but after 6 p. m. he was Count Zichy.

It was after Miss Demarest's return from abroad that he read of her coming marriage in the paper. He decided to call on her.

LOVE ON SIGHT

"The moment he entered the room," said the countess with excitement, "I knew I could never be happy as the wife of another. And he couldn't bear the thought of my becoming another man's bride. So we got married."

Then the man who held the old judgment read of the romance, and started proceedings to collect.

Did the count come across? Not immediately.

"What do we care?" says the countess, "if some horrid sheriff is trying to collect some money for an old auto accident? What's money, when you're in love?"

CITY FIREMEN PREPARE TO ENTER COUNTY FAIR BARNYARD GOLF CONTEST

Sauerkraut, hot dawg and horse shoes. If anyone had sought the reason for the broad smiles of the firemen at Central engine house, High-st. and Central-av., exhibited Tuesday, the answer would have been found in the mess room.

For there, the first time in the history of the station, Mess Sergeants Charley McCauley and Russell Whitney were trying the "sauerkraut-dawg" combination. Great grunts of genuine glee followed each rattle of pans and kettles coming from the kitchen.

Horseshoe? Yes, ho. Barnyard golf went hand in hand with the savory concoction. Its appetizing aroma prompted the fire laddies to great deeds on the links across the street on a vacant lot and ringer after ringer was hung up.

At the door of the "heavenly perfume" can be laid the decision of the firemen to whip a team into shape for the annual horseshoe tournament at the county fair in August.

Anybody doubt that sauerkraut, hot dawg and horseshoes do not hit? Ask the firemen. They know.

TRIO PAY FINES FOR TRAFFIC TRANSGRESSION

Fines for three were handed out in criminal court Tuesday. Topping the list is the Garford Motor company, which was assessed $10 for operating a large truck, used for hauling employees to work, with touring car licenses. The truck driver was arrested Monday.

G. F. Black, 130 N. McDonel-st., drew $5 for parking without a full light.

William E. Hydaker, 405 W. Market, paid $5 for operating a car with only one license.

T. C. Lynch, 342 Ritchie-av. and J. E. Jones, Delphos, were dismissed from traffic charges, the former for passing a street car while taking on passengers and the latter for operating a car with one tag.

INCREASE STOCK TO $500,000

Stockholders of Knitting Machine Co. Vote $200,000

Increase of the capital stock of the Universal Knitting Machine company, which has offices at 432 American Bank-bldg., was voted at a meeting of stockholders, held Monday evening in the offices of the company.

The capital stock is now $300,000. An increase to $500,000 will be made.

"Object of the increase is to manufacture a greater output," J. E. Sullivan, president said. "The company will soon be ready to move into its new building in Grand Rapids, Mich., which will provide more floor space. It is for that reason we wish the increased capitalization to provide greater output in manufacture," he stated.

More than 20,000 shares of stock were represented at the meeting of stockholders. Papers have been signed and are ready to send at once to Columbus, making the application for the increase.

W. Ioor, Grand Rapids, vice president and general manager of the company, attended the meeting. Stockholders were present from Springfield, Cincinnati, and various parts of Michigan.

J. E. Sullivan, Lima, is president of the company. E. O. Reed, Lima, is secretary. Members of the board of directors include Sullivan, Ioor, Reed, H. S. Chapman, of Lima, who is treasurer; F. J. Banta, Frank Colucci and A. E. Gale.

LOWER COURT REVERSED IN HEIL AND BRENNAN CASES; GRANT NEW TRIALS

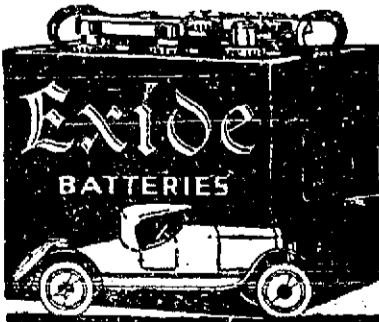

New trials have been granted Carl Heil, 320 E. Eureka-st. and Mary Brennan, 622 N. West-st., alleged liquor violators, whose conviction before Judge Rover. Belief-taine was reversed by the district court of appeals, Tuesday.

The court, however, sustained the verdict of the lower court as to Ernest Bonanno, son of Frank Bonanno, grocer, 768 N. Main-st., who was fined $750. Heil and Miss Brennan had been fined $500 and $300 respectively.

The trio, in company with Jeanette and Irene Bonanno, was arrested at Russell Point July 4, 1921. Logan-co constables alleged that liquor was served at the cottage. The Bonanno girls were never tried.

In reversing the decision of the lower court, the court of appeals found that the verdict was against the weight of the evidence.

YOUNGSTOWN FINANCIAL PROBLEM IS SOLVED

YOUNGSTOWN — The situation created here by a million dollar municipal deficit, owing to a bonded debt which takes sixty-five per cent of the city's annual income, has been temporarily solved again by issuance of $120,000 in debt extension bonds, to be purchased by the sinking fund commission with funds on hand from the sale of previous bond issues.

Ordinance authorizing the new bond sale was passed by city council last night, under threat by Mayor Oles to suspend nearly the whole police and fire force before next Friday unless some means of paying salaries was provided. At the same time council passed Oles' ordinance for discharging 25 patrolmen as an economy measure.

British Aviators to Begin Trip Around World

LONDON — (Associated Press) — In an attempt to fly around the world by air, two British aviators plan to hop off from the flying field at Croydon at noon tomorrow. The aviators, Major W. T. Blake of the Royal Air Force, and Captain Norman MacMillan, expect to complete their trip in two months.

The route lies thru France, Italy, Greece, Egypt, Mesopotamia, India, Eastern China, Japan, thence via the Aleutian Islands to Alaska, thru the United States to New York to New Foundland and across the Atlantic via Greenland and Iceland to Scotland.

The record making trip was first visualized by Sir Ross and Sir Keith Smith of Australia, but the latter abandoned his plans when his brother was killed recently in a preparatory flight.

SLAYER LEADS IN GANG HUNT

White Plains Millionaire Says Blackmail Caused Killing

CASE VEILED IN MYSTERY

Motive for Demands for Money Not Revealed

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. — (Associated Press) — Search for two men known only as "Ross" and "Jack" declared by Walter S. Ward of New Rochelle, N. Y., millionaire son of the head of the Ward Baking Company of New York, to have been present when he shot and killed Clarence Peters of Haverhill, Mass., near here the night of May 15, was continued by Westchester county officials today.

Ward, after confessing he had killed a member of a gang that had blackmailed him for $30,000, and then attempted to get $75,000 more, went to New York last night in company with officers and conducted a search of resorts where he declared the men might be found.

It was an unsuccessful quest, Ward who is the son of the president of the Ward Baking Company, is at liberty under a bail bond of $50,000.

THORO SEARCH

He was accompanied to New York by Sheriff George J. Werner and four deputies, who were joined by two New York city detectives. Using a list made up by Ward, the party went into cabarets, restaurants and cafes in the white light district and scrutinized every man present. When the search along Broadway and its side streets failed, Ward, with Sheriff Werner and the others, spent several hours on the Lower East Side, but no men fitting the description of the two men sought could be found.

The sheriff said that Ross was a "confidence man of the highest calibre," while Jack, the only name the other of the trio is known by, was more of the type of a chauffeur. He added that Ross was the better dressed of the gang and was about 26 years old.

The basis for the blackmail plot remains unrevealed as the lawyers representing Ward decline to make public any of the bundle of letters given them by Ward, which he received in the six weeks he was being threatened.

SCM DEMANDED

The telephone call which resulted in the meeting by Ward of the men on the day of the killing, was said to have been the threat by Peters "we want $75,000 or your life will pay." This is the threat in the only letter disclosed. Sheriff Werner said that he had read a threatening letter with a demand for that sum.

When Elwood M. Rabenold, counsel for Ward, was asked if there was a woman in the case, he answered:

"The threats are aimed at his family."

Allen R. Campbell, another of the lawyers was asked if the blackmail plot involved a woman and answered "I don't think I should answer that question."

"Did it start, as reported, at a race track?"

"I think it did."

"Did it involve Ward's war record?"

"I can assure you that it did not," answered Mr. Campbell.

WIFE KNEW OF PLOT
Mrs. Ward said that she had known of the plot for some time and added, "I'm with my husband and I want to do everything I can here, with Whitsett Bros."

WORLD IS WARNED OF CAPITALISM

Called Class War by Noted Economic Expert

"MENACE TO CIVILIZATION"

"System" is Attacked Before Church Conference

EVANSTON, Ill. — (Associated Press) — Capitalism as now practiced "is class war," and "destructive of civilization," Prof. John H. Gray of Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., a former president of the American Economic Association, told the conference on Christianity and the Economic Order here today. The conference was called by leaders of the Methodist Episcopal church. Prof. Gray said in part:

"Capitalism as at present practiced is class war quite as destructive of civilization as international militarism. In fact it is the moving force and cause of international aggression and war. It leads to social and political unrest, and to such gross injustice as is inconsistent with a Christian civilization."

"Our economic order rests on the theory of private property, freedom of individual contract, and the universality and beneficence of competition. The theories on which we act grey out of circumstances that have entirely disappeared with the appearance and development of capitalism."

SURPLUS INCREASED

"When this system took shape, a society was virtually stagnant, and if the amount of production increased, the surplus went to the producers in fairly equal portions. Rapid invention, discovery and the development of capitalism with its working classes without ownership enormously increased this surplus, and caused it to go to the owners, the means of production, to the virtual exclusion of the workers."

"Such a system is incompatible with as wide a political franchise as we have today."

Prof. Gray served at various times as chairman of the municipal committee of the Civic Federation of Chicago, as chairman of the World's Congress Auxiliary on Political Science, and as associate editor of the Economic Bulletin. He was recently a professor at the University of Minnesota.

ZONING ADVISORY BODY WILL MEET WEDNESDAY

A meeting of the official advisory committee on zoning which was recently commissioned by the city commission, will be held in the chamber of commerce auditorium at 10 a. m., Wednesday.

This will be the first formal meeting of the committee, which is to examine zoning ordinances from other cities and decide what would be the best plan for the city to follow.

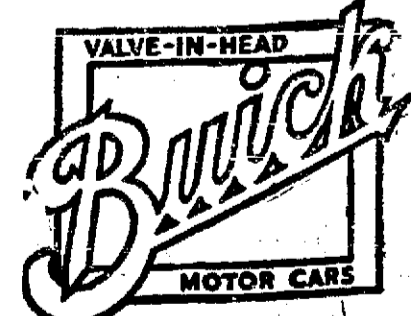

W. L. Parmenter is the chairman of the committee. It is planned to hurry the preparations of the zoning ordinance in order that it may be put before the people and adopted as soon as possible.

MADDOO'S SON WEDS—NEW YORK — William G. McDoo, 27, son of the former secretary of the treasury, was married to Mollie Tackaberry Ferguson at the Municipal building.

WIDOW TO BUILD MODEL TOWN—A model village costing $2,000,000 will be built on the outskirts of Cincinnati.

Mrs. Mary M. Emery, wealthy widow, conceived the plan. She has bought a 366-acre tract along the Miami river, named it "Marlemont" and promises by 1923 a suburb modeled after English garden villages.

DID HIM MORE GOOD

Many men and women suffer from backache, rheumatic pains, stiff joints, sore muscles and other results of kidney trouble because they neglected the first warning symptoms. Foley Kidney Pills aid the kidneys to throw out poisonous waste matter that causes pain and misery. Stephen Lewis, Eldridge, Ky., writes: "Foley Kidney Pills did me more good than all the other medicine I ever took. I had kidney trouble for ten years. I don't have any pain like I had before I took them." Chas. J. Vorkamp, Main and McKibben-sts.—Adv.

HER MURDERER IS LYNCHED

Mrs. Billy Kitchens, bride of six weeks, and rural mail distributor, was shot to death at Davisboro, Ga., by Charlie Atkins, 15-year-old negro, who wanted the machine the girl was driving. A posse captured Atkins, flogged him, strung him up and then pumped his body full of lead.

MISSING PIENESS IS FOUND—A nation-wide search for Mrs. Opal Rexroat Kinney, wealthy owner of Oklahoma oil lands and heiress to her father's rich estate ended when ex-Sheriff Buck Garrett of Ardmore located the girl and her husband at Houston, Tex. Kinney and his bride disappeared from Ardmore last January, after her father objected to their marriage, saying he believed Kinney planned to annex the Rexroat fortune. Picture shows (left to right) Mrs. Kinney, Buck Garrett and Kinney.

HIS DEATH IS MYSTERY—Deep mystery involves the shooting of Edward L. Thornton, millionaire Chicago lumberman, aged 58. According to Mrs. Everett Thornton, the dead man's sister-in-law, Thornton was cleaning a gun belonging to her husband, when the weapon went off accidentally and Thornton was shot thru the lung. As it was an accident, Mrs. Thornton says, the police were not notified.

RADICALISM GIVEN SETBACK

TWO men who know the inner workings of the force that has for many years been endeavoring to upset all things organized, have related to Lima audiences their impressions as to why radicalism and the so called melting pot have been failures.

In an address before Rotary Monday, "Soapbox Jack" O'Brien explained that a branch of so-called socialism which practically fired its own funeral pyre during the war, failed in its every effort because it did not take into consideration the fact that natural resources and capital are as necessary as labor for the success of any project.

Before a combined meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis club Tuesday, Zalman Kalmanovitz, former Russian subject and red, now endeavoring to make amends for his work as a radical agent, took the lid off red activities. Kalmanovitz now knows that nothing is gained by radicalism, which tears at the vitals of society. He lays bare, however, for the benefit of law abiding, steady going citizens, some of the things which incite men and women to a hatred of organized authority. The best way to combat radicalism is to remove the things that breed it.

ORIENTAL LUXURIES

IN shop windows and stores we see many luxuries that make us sigh because we cannot afford them.

Most of us are millionaires at heart. That is the chief reason we have millionaires. They are the creations of the composite of national thought and desire.

It also is the reason why luxuries fascinate us, make us pack the movie theatre where a film shows expensive gowns, jewels, costly furnishings and other trappings of luxury.

A DESERT sheik is fascinating because of his luxurious life — particularly the luxury of summoning a regiment of kowtowing servants by the mere clapping of a hand.

The best that the movies can do, in picturing luxury, is tame compared with the genuine luxuries of the ancient Orient.

For instance, Abulfeda — the reporter-historian of Damascus 1000 years ago — wrote this description of the Caliph Moktader's court in Bagdad:

"Near his state officers were 7000 eunuchs. The porters and doorkeepers were in number 700 Barges and boats with the most superb decorations were seen floating upon the Tigris. Nor was the palace itself less splendid, in which were hung up 38,000 pieces of tapestry, 12,500 of which were of silk embroidered with gold. The carpets on the floor were 22,000. A hundred lions were brought out with a keeper to each.

"Among the other spectacles of rare and stupendous luxury was a tree of gold and silver, spreading into 18 larger branches, on which, and on the lesser boughs, sat a variety of birds made of the same precious metals, as well as the leaves of the tree. The birds warbled their natural harmony, each in its own strains, the whole being effected by the spontaneous motions of machinery."

EMPEROR SHIH HUANG TI, builder of the Chinese Wall, had a gorgeous palace of 1001 rooms, also a large bathing pool filled with the oldest of fine and expensive wines.

Compared with those ancient days, the modern world does not know what luxury is.

And that is a mighty good thing. For the luxury of the ancients was enjoyed only by a few, supported by millions of slaves who toiled under the lash until they were exhausted and allowed to recuperate in sleep like over-worked horses and oxen.

Luxury has vanished. So, too, for the most part, has human slavery.

IMPRESSING VISITORS

LIMA will be afforded an opportunity again tomorrow of presenting its best for the inspection of a large contingent of visitors from other communities in Ohio. Men and women, making up a representation of Lions clubs, will be here for the annual state convention of the organization.

It is always desirable that Lima send away, back to their homes, the best possible impressions with visitors with us temporarily. It has been said that first impressions are the most lasting. This is undoubtedly true. Those who will visit us on the morrow perhaps for the first time, will always retain the impression they gain while here.

A reputation that is most enviable has been gained by Lima in the past in the matter of receiving and entertaining visitors. This city cannot afford to fail to maintain that reputation — it will not fail. That every visitor is afforded a correct impression of the real Lima spirit, it is necessary that each and every citizen do his part.

Ohio Lions will assemble here on Wednesday. While a generous program of entertainment has been arranged, it can be added to by the exemplification of little things, by the offering of courtesies and a pleasant greeting.

Help the Lima Lions to entertain their guests in a manner that will long be remembered by those who will be with us for the day.

POEMS YOU WILL ENJOY

—BY BERTON BRADLEY—

SURE THEY DO

Cynical bachelors may proclaim

They are safe from the tender passion.

Quite untouched by the subtle flame

That glows and glows in a wondrous fashion.

But by and by there will come along

Some girl to capture them, one and all,

For be their armor-however strong

Sooner or later they always fall!

And some are taken when blithe

And some are taken in middle age—

Bound and fettered and swiftly flung

Into the matrimonial cage;

Just when they boast of their freedom loudest

They find they're caught in the ancient thral!

The toughest bachelors and the proudest—

Sooner or later they always fall!

And if for the length of a life

They're "free,"

Free to wander the world alone,

It isn't because they have wished to be.

For deep in their hearts, if you

Could be shown,

Is the cherished rhyme of an old romance,

A memory sweet that they still recall:

Oh, loves the master—men have no chance,

Sooner or later they always fall!

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multisided cocoon oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonful of Multisided in a cup or glass with a little warm water, then moisten your hair with water and rub it in. It will make an abundance of rich creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisided cocoon oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Multisided.—Adv.

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

DEFORMITIES

(BY DR. R. H. BISHOP)

How needless it is for a child to be crippled?

Prevention of deformities is to orthopedic surgery what prevention of disease is to medicine and public health. It should begin before birth, with proper care, diet, hygiene of the mother, and by avoidance of accidents and injuries.

Rickets often result in curvature of the long bones, or spine. Such deformities may be prevented. Near the end of the first year a child will bear close watching. It is always moving at this age and may have a serious fall.

Congenital deformities are sometimes curable by early operation.

More attention should be given by parents and physicians to complaints of "growing pains." Often they are the first signs of a growing deformity.

Prevention of deformities resulting from infantile paralysis is largely a matter of preventing the disease itself, by quarantine, avoidance of crowds when tired or weak, and cleanliness during the prevalence of the disease.

In early childhood proper posture, breathing exercises and avoidance of carrying heavy books and packages will prevent round or stoop shoulders and spinal curvature.

Enlarged tonsils and decayed teeth often cause joint deformities. Social diseases claim more than their share of serious joint and bone diseases.

ABE MARTIN

"About the only thing a wife leaves around the house where we kin find it is a bill. We doubt if there'll be enough mosquitoes to take care of the business this summer."

wanted for the milk to sour for my cakes, and it didn't. The given par excellence cakes from sweetmilk.

Taxed to the Presbyterian church, and left my passenger. Thence to the post, but ten days from the first of the month, received no epistles.

Home to wake my wife, poor wretch, expecting a radio on the results of the sweet milk experiment. Breakfasted again on some Java and Virginia Indian weed, rolled.

To the morning papers, a great task, and then in an argument with Mr. Gillette. My face looked frightful, but you should have seen what I did to the blade. It will never again be able to harm.

Lunched on cold ham and a salad of head lettuce with Thousand Island dressing and Lipton's tea. Got out the wagon and drove merrily and gaily to visit with my rich sister in St. Marys. She pleased to see me but warmed slowly. And gave us a good Sunday night supper against trying again.

On the return, passed a farm boy in a gasoline coach, with lights all shut off and what looked like a girl beside him. And they perturbed at our rapid approach, not.

By 'phone invited to hear a Russian discourse on the Melting Pot. Tried to catch step with Kline Spelary to tell him about it, but how that boy swings along. Hope he hears the lecture, as I can't go. Talked real estate to a realtor, but we're $5,200 apart.

Home, and at my scrivening, but in poor mood so strolled across the way to a friend's house to find his wife ill and he unresponsive for lack of supplies at the source.

In the evening, began invoice of my summer's wear. And find two pairs of white hose, but they would leak. The straw hat simply won't do. And as for B. V. D.'s all are more holy than righteous. So some 'chopping I must do if the weather predictions for this week are believable.

Reads Burns' poems to my wife, until she left me for the Land of Nod. Then made egg sandwiches and washed them down with Grapo Smack. So to bed.

TUBERCULAR TEST CLINIC PLANNED

Campaign Against White Plague To Be Given Impetus

Dr. J. B. Polling, city health commissioner and the nurses of the district are carrying out organization of the tuberculosis clinic in Lima May 31 and June 1. Miss Marie Mueller and Miss Marian Feste, Red Cross public health nurses; Miss Olive Johnson, city nurse, and Miss Arreatha Nichols, school nurse, will give their assistance. Mrs. Zoe McCaleb, organization nurse from the state department of health, is in charge of arrangements. Nurses will visit every physician in the county and obtain lists of patients who, in their opinion, will benefit from an examination. Dr. H. H. Snively, director of the state department of health, has written every physician in the county a letter, explaining the entire program of tuberculosis clinics and results. The Academy of Medicine of Allen-co, of which Dr. A. F. Basinger is president, has given its approval to the campaign and promises co-operation and assistance.

MEMORIAL SERVICES ARE PLANNED AT KEMP

Memorial services will be held in the United Brethren church, Kemp, Sunday at 10:30 a. m. Ex-soldiers and sailors and their families will be welcomed to the service. A musical and literary program will be given. Rev. W. W. Frank will deliver the address.

LARCENY CHARGE AGAINST PRETTY GIRL DISMISSED

LORAIN — Prosecuting Attorney Lawrence A. Webber today dismissed the grand larceny case against Mary Rose Boone, pretty Owensboro, Ky., girl, arrested last fall on charges preferred by Nicholas Bishop, New York Central roundhouse foreman at Elyria. Miss Boone was charged with stealing a note for $1,000 given by her brother to Bishop. She entered a plea of not guilty. In moving for a dismissal of the case, the prosecuting attorney told the court that in his judgment the evidence of the state was not sufficient to convict.

RADICALISM GIVEN SETBACK

TWO men who know the inner workings of the force that has for many years been endeavoring to upset all things organized, have related to Lima audiences their impressions as to why radicalism and the so called melting pot have been failures.

In an address before Rotary Monday, "Soapbox Jack" O'Brien explained that a branch of so-called socialism which practically fired its own funeral pyre during the war, failed in its every effort because it did not take into consideration the fact that natural resources and capital are as necessary as labor for the success of any project.

Before a combined meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis club Tuesday, Zalman Kalmanovitz, former Russian subject and red, now endeavoring to make amends for his work as a radical agent, took the lid off red activities. Kalmanovitz now knows that nothing is gained by radicalism, which tears at the vitals of society. He lays bare, however, for the benefit of law abiding, steady going citizens, some of the things which incite men and women to a hatred of organized authority. The best way to combat radicalism is to remove the things that breed it.

ORIENTAL LUXURIES

IN shop windows and stores we see many luxuries that make us sigh because we cannot afford them.

Most of us are millionaires at heart. That is the chief reason we have millionaires. They are the creations of the composite of national thought and desire.

It also is the reason why luxuries fascinate us, make us pack the movie theatre where a film shows expensive gowns, jewels, costly furnishings and other trappings of luxury.

A DESERT sheik is fascinating because of his luxurious life — particularly the luxury of summoning a regiment of kowtowing servants by the mere clapping of a hand.

The best that the movies can do, in picturing luxury, is tame compared with the genuine luxuries of the ancient Orient.

For instance, Abulfeda — the reporter-historian of Damascus 1000 years ago — wrote this description of the Caliph Moktader's court in Bagdad:

"Near his state officers were 7000 eunuchs. The porters and doorkeepers were in number 700. Barges and boats with the most superb decorations were seen floating upon the Tigris. Nor was the palace itself less splendid, in which were hung up 35,000 pieces of tapestry, 12,500 of which were of silk embroidered with gold. The carpets on the floor were 22,000. A hundred lions were brought out with a keeper to each.

"Among the other spectacles of rare and stupendous luxury was a tree of gold and silver, spreading into 18 larger branches, on which, and on the lesser boughs, sat a variety of birds made of the same precious metals, as well as the leaves of the tree. The birds warbled their natural harmony, each in its own strains, the whole being effected by the spontaneous motions of machinery."

EMPEROR SHIH HUANG TI, builder of the Chinese Wall, had a gorgeous palace of 1001 rooms, also a large bathing pool filled with the oldest of fine and expensive wines.

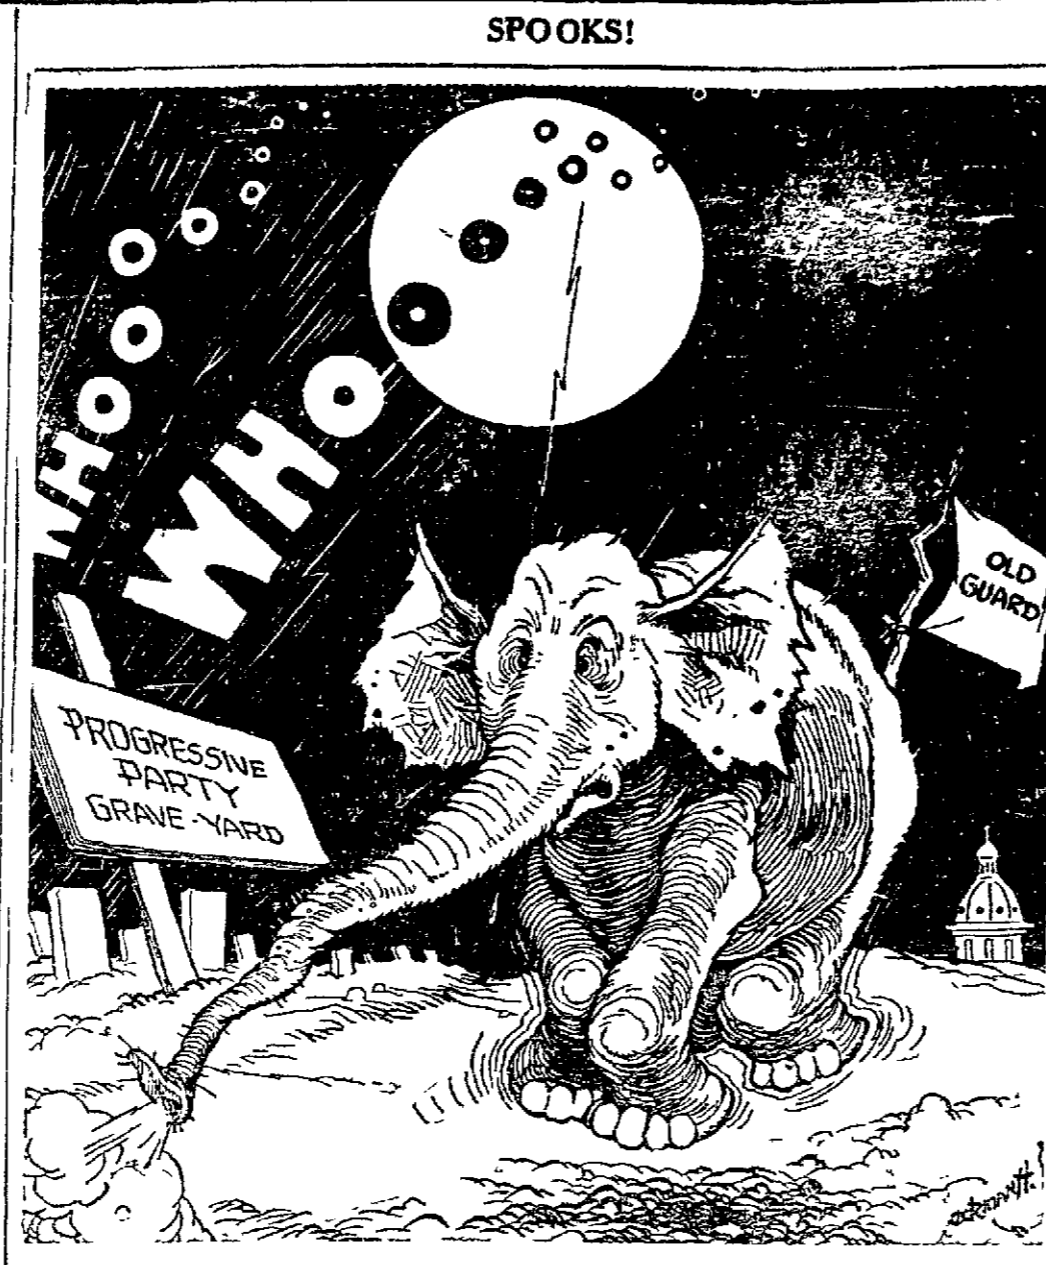

Compared with those ancient days, the modern world does not know what luxury is. And that is a mighty good thing.

For the luxury of the ancients was enjoyed only by a few, supported by millions of slaves who toiled under the lash until they were exhausted and allowed to recuperate in sleep like over-worked horses and oxen.

Luxury has vanished. So, too, for the most part, has human slavery.

IMPRESSING VISITORS

LIMA will be afforded an opportunity again tomorrow of presenting its best for the inspection of a large contingent of visitors from other communities in Ohio. Men and women, making up a representation of Lions clubs, will be here for the annual state convention of the organization.

It is always desirable that Lima send away, back to their homes, the best possible impressions with visitors with us temporarily. It has been said that first impressions are the most lasting. This is undoubtedly true. Those who will visit us on the morrow perhaps for the first time, will always retain the impression they gain while here.

A reputation that is most enviable has been gained by Lima in the past in the matter of receiving and entertaining visitors. This city cannot afford to fail to maintain that reputation — it will not fail. That every visitor is afforded a correct impression of the real Lima spirit, it is necessary that each and every citizen do his part.

Ohio Lions will assemble here on Wednesday. While a generous program of entertainment has been arranged, it can be added to by the exemplification of little things, by the offering of courtesies and a pleasant greeting.

Help the Lima Lions to entertain their guests in a manner that will long be remembered by those who will be with us for the day.

SURE THEY DO

Cynical bachelors may proclaim
They are safe from the tender passion.
Quite untouched by the subtle flames
That glow and glow in a wondrous fashion.
But by and by there will come along
Some girl to capture them, one
And all,
For be their armor however strong
Sooner or later they always fall!

And some are taken when b'lieve
And young
And some are taken in middle age,
Bound and fettered and swiftly
flung
Into the matrimonial cage;
Just when they boast of their freedom
dom loudest
They find they're caught in the ancient thralldom.
The toughest bachelors and the proudest—
Sooner or later they always fall!

And if for the length of a life
they're "free,"
Free to wander the world alone,
It isn't because they have wished to be.
For deep in their hearts, if you
could be shown,
Is the cherished shrine of an old
romance,
A memory sweet that they still recall.
Oh, love's the master—men have no choice.
Sooner or later they always fall!

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multisided cocoon oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonsful of Multisided in a cup or glass with a little warm water, then moisten your hair with water and rub it in. It will make an abundance of rich creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisided cocoon oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your drug list gives you Multisided—Adv

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

DEFORMITIES

(BY DR. R. H. BISHOP)

How needless it is for a child to be crippled?

Prevention of deformities is to orthopedic surgery what prevention of disease is to medicine and public health. It should begin before birth, with proper care, diet, hygiene of the mother, and by avoidance of accidents and injuries.

Rickets often result in curvature of the long bones, or spine. Such deformities may be prevented.

Near the end of the first year a child will bear close watching. It is always moving at this age and may have a serious fall.

Congenital deformities are sometimes curable by early operation. More attention should be given by parents and physicians to complaints of "growing pains." Often they are the first signs of a growing deformity.

Prevention of deformities resulting from infantile paralysis is largely a matter of preventing the disease itself, by quarantine, avoidance of crowds when tired or weak, and cleanliness during the prevalence of the disease.

In early childhood proper posture, breathing exercises and avoidance of carrying heavy books and packages will prevent round or stoop shoulders and spinal curvature.

Enlarged tonsils and decayed teeth often cause joint deformities. Social diseases claim more than their share of serious joint and bone diseases.

MRS. WOODRUFF HEAD OF DELTA SIGMA SORORITY

MRS. GLENNE WOODRUFF was elected president of the Delta Sigma sorority at the meeting Monday evening with Miss Josephine Garretson, of S. McDonell-st. Other officers chosen are Mrs. Donald McHaffey, first vice-president; Mrs. Seward Folsom, second vice-president; Josephine Garretson, treasurer; Miss Eloise Cunningham, secretary; Miss Hope Hollister, chairman of the social committee and Mrs. Frank Wallace, philanthropic secretary. Miss Betty Laughlin was chosen delegate to the national convention, which will be held in Davenport, Iowa, in June. The next regular meeting of the sorority will be held in a fortnight with Mrs. Seward Folsom, of the Marquette-apt.

Honoring the birthday anniversary of Miss Mary Louise Edwards, Miss Myra Fridley, of S. Cole-st., arranged a surprise 6 o'clock dinner, Monday evening. The table was handsomely appointed for the occasion and place was arranged for Misses Mary Louise Edwards, Elizabeth Green, Mary Esther Bentley, Dorothea Kendrick, Myra Fridley, Messrs. LeRoy Hawisher, Dorelle McLaughlin, Claude Wetherill, Earl Bryan and Marvin Barth.

Miss Josephine Garretson, of S. McDonell-st., will entertain the teachers of the Lowell school with an informal gathering at her home, Tuesday evening.

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Crox, Jr., who will leave in the fall for their future home in St. Petersburg, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Hess, of W. Eureka-st., entertained a group of friends at their home at a pleasant gathering, Sunday. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harley Goetz, Mrs. Fred Koehn and Edward Burke, all of Wapakoneta.

Mrs. J. Orville Wood, and son Roger Holmes, of Corning, N. Y., are guests of Mrs. Wood's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Winemiller, of E. High-st. Mrs. Wood was formerly Miss Helen Winemiller.

Meeting of the Primrose club, which was to have been held Wednesday afternoon, has been postponed until Friday when Mrs. S. H. Ruff, of Reese-av., will be hostess.

Miss Louise Ackerman, of State-st., has as her houseguest, Miss Katherine Goeke, of Wapakoneta.

Mrs. Harry Elchler, of Wapakoneta, is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. Charles Neumler, of Brice-av.

Henry French was happily surprised Monday evening when a large group of friends gathered at his country home on the Sulphur Springs-rd. in honor of his 69th birthday anniversary. The evening was enjoyed socially and delicious refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Black and son, James, of Lima, Butler, and Miss Ida Panabaker are home from a motor trip to Dayton, where they visited over the week-end.

Members of the Stroller's club are entertaining with the first of their summer dances, Friday evening. The committee in charge includes Marshall Williams, chairman; Earl Bryan and Claude Wetherill.

Mrs. S. K. Mosiman, of Bluffton, spent the day in Lima, Monday.

Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Tillotson, Mrs. James Dunn and Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Huleken will be among those who will leave next Tuesday for Los Angeles, where they will attend the national convention of the Rotary clubs.

Dr. and Mrs. T. R. Thomas will also attend the convention. They are in St. Louis at the present time, attending the National Medical association convention but will join the other delegates and journey on to the Rotarian convention. All will return to Lima via the Canadian route, arriving home the latter part of June.

Mrs. Oliver S. Steiner, of W. Market-st., was hostess to The Monday Nightingale club and a small group of guests. Bridge was the diversion of the afternoon. Mrs. Frank Moke holding high among the winners and Mrs. Henry Folsom among the guests. The guests included Mrs. Harry Fritsch, of Buffalo; Mrs. Henry Folsom, of Circleville and Mrs. Seward Folsom. At the conclusion of the playing the hostess served a dainty luncheon.

James Black, a student at the Art Academy in Cincinnati during the past year arrived home to spend the summer vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Black, of W. Spring-st. The Blacks are planning to leave the first of June for Lakeside, where they will enjoy the summer months.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN CUSTARDS

Good for Young and Old Alike

Custard is a fine dish for summer time. And many custards are very easy to make. These recipes are specially good for children, but will be equally good for grown-ups!

CANTON CUSTARD
One and one-half cups milk, 2 eggs, 1-4 cup sugar, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla, preserved or crystallized ginger.
Scald milk. Beat eggs slightly with sugar and salt. Pour on scalded milk slowly, stirring till sugar is dissolved. Line individual molds with thin strips of ginger. The molds should be lightly buttered. Pour the milk and egg mixture into the cups, set in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven until the blade of a silver knife comes out clean. Water in the pan surrounding the custard cups should never boil.

DATE CUSTARD
One and one-half cups milk, 3 eggs, 1-4 cup sugar, 1-2 cup stoned dates, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla, 1-3 teaspoon salt.
Scald milk. Beat eggs slightly with sugar and salt. Pour over milk and sugar. Add vanilla. Line buttered cups with dates and pour in custard egg mixture. Set in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven till firm to the touch.

CHILDREN'S SUPPER CUSTARD
Two cups milk, 2 eggs, 1-4 cup sugar, buttered bread, cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla, 1-8 teaspoon salt.
Beat eggs slightly with sugar and vanilla. Add milk and stir until sugar is dissolved. Pour into a large buttered baking dish. Cover with round slices of buttered bread, butter side up. Sprinkle lightly with sugar and cinnamon and bake in a pan of hot water in a moderate oven. Serve cold.

CARAMEL CUSTARD
Six tablespoons brown sugar, 2 tablespoons hot water, 2 cups milk, 3 eggs, 1-4 cup brown sugar, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla.
Put the six tablespoons of brown sugar in an iron or aluminum spider. Heat till syrupy. Add boiling water and cook two minutes. Warm custard cups. Put two tablespoons caramel in each cup. Beat eggs slightly with sugar. Add scalded milk and vanilla. Pour into cups and bake in a pan of hot water in a moderate oven. Serve warm.

OUR FIRST YEAR

—BY A BRIDE—

PLAY'S THE THING

"Bonny is making all this trouble for everybody because she's so ignorant," said I to Me. "She doesn't realize how she's upset the play if she drops out of the cast. She never stops to think how awfully cut up her father will be if he has to take George Bradshaw for a son-in-law."

"That's the whole trouble with modern flappers. They're too young to have sense. Peggy Madison, you've got some job — if you keep Bonny from eloping!"

I used to believe that life's complexities were of slow growth and avoidable, if one had sense. Since my marriage I've learned that the most trying situations develop in about half a minute. Alone, as a spinster, I had to decide things for myself. As a bride, I never could make a decision without consulting Jack.

And that was the very thing we had planned to avoid.

Once upon a time I would have been completely absorbed in the play.

But marriage had made it impossible for me to handle any detail of my existence so simply. How I acted was now less important to me than how Jack would react to my work in my part. How would he take the love scene when the Viking was reunited to his bride?

I made my entry in Bart's arms. I, his queen, was supposed to have come down to the harbor to welcome him, and he had picked me up and carried me aboard his ship.

My returning hero had many rich gifts for me. I sat by his side while captive maids spread the rich treasure of the raid before me.

Bart made an elemental conquering Norse lover.

The captive maids who served me about the other as rival women always and everywhere have known. Only the man in a triangle case is ever duped for long.

So ran the play. Before Bart picked me up, he had warned me:

"Now, Peggie! Don't make a row! Here's where Jack Madison gets what's coming to him! Don't pinch or bite when I kiss you. Don't stick a pin into me when I hug you, Peggy! You've got nothing to say in this little act.

"Now, if Jack can be made to feel, he's going to have his chance. Peggy, listen to me: Your Jack is in for a lesson!"

Half way thru the scene Jack began to pace up and down the auditorium.

Was he angry? Or disgusted? Or hurt?

slaves—except one. She gazed upon the Viking's wife with the eyes of an equal. And I knew her for a rival in my lord's affection. Each recognized the face without a word, each guessed the place and the power of the other, knew the truth were all humble enough — mere

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:
I HAVE been going on rather I did go with a man about my own age for several months. He made an engagement with me for one night and then failed to keep it. He came to me, however, and apologized for it. I forgave him and he made an engagement with me for the next night. He said that it would be alright for him to come. I stayed at home and waited for him, but he didn't come. I have not heard from him since. I still care for him. What shall I do?

O, my dear! IN DESPAIR out of your thoughts that you would not even, recognize his name were some one to mention it to you. The young man was unapardonably rude and discourteous. For one to fail to keep an engagement once is discourteous enough, without a repetition of the same act.
It is possible that your friend may have come to realize his regard

SUMMER WARDROBE FOR ONLY $60

Sixty dollars was all one clever woman needed for a summer wardrobe for herself, her younger sister and her small son. And immediately you ask how she did it? She's going to tell you—in three articles in The Lima News. In the first, printed below, she tells how she made her own summer clothes for $20. Can you do as well?—Editor.

Of course, three dresses and a wrap may not be a complete wardrobe, but the lack of them was all that stood between me and a vacation this summer.

If I spent much money on clothes I'd have none for a vacation. If I spent it on the vacation I'd have nothing to wear.

After carefully considering all my assets I found if I had the sort of vacation I wanted there would be $30 left for clothes.

Obviously I couldn't buy much for that. The only thing to do was to make the things I wanted. Fortunately fashionable lines are straight and simple, printed patterns are easy to use, and I am a person of average intelligence. Everything came out beautifully.

FOUR GARMENTS
For the $30 I bought materials for a wrap, a morning dress, a sport dress and an afternoon dress.

The morning dress I made of voile for which I paid 50 cents a yard. There are plenty of materials at this price—dimity, gingham, printed cottons. The only difficulty was to decide which was prettiest.

Taffeta combined with georgette made an attractive afternoon dress, decorative enough to serve for dinner and evening wear as well, since summer affairs are never fearfully formal.

SLIP-ON DRESS
Instead of a separate sport skirt I made a sleeveless slip-on dress of taffeta. The taffetae are most dashingly this year—checks, stripes, plaids and brilliant high colors. A voile blouse to go with it costs very little. The cape is of black canton crepe lined with colored crepe de chine—plain and very good looking, I think. Just in case you're not convinced about the prices here's a list of the materials I used:

THESE GARMENTS—A WHOLE SUMMER WARDROBE—MADE AT A COST OF ONLY $30.

Morning dress—3 1/2 yards of 28-inch voile at 50 cents a yard: $1.75
Afternoon dress, yards of 40-inch taffeta at $2 a yard: 1 1/2 yards of 40-inch georgette at $2: $5.25
Cape—2 1/2 yards of 40-inch Canton crepe at $2.50 a yard: $6.25
Yards of 40-inch crepe de chine at $1.75: $4.38

Sports dress—3 1/2 yards of rayon for slip-on, at 85 cents: $2.97
2-3 yards of 36-inch voile for blouse, at 60 cents: $1.80
Five patterns: $1.11
Findings: $1.11
Total: $19.00

(In tomorrow's Lima News this remarkable woman will tell how she made her flapper sister's summer outfit for $20.)

ARTIC FILM PRESENTS SIMPLE DRAMA OF LIFE

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)
DISCOVERED! The greatest hero and heroine of the screen are Nanook and Nyla. Nanook is an Eskimo, Nyla his mate. They live their life before the camera and Robert J. Flaherty, explorer, presents it as a film drama called "Nanook of the North."

Here is a simple drama of living intensified by the utter simplicity of the life it depicts. It proves far more effective than any bit of mere acting.

Flaherty made the film when Nanook acted as his guide on a trip thru the upper east coast of Hudson Bay and Ungava Peninsula, the northernmost point of Labrador.

There natives subsist entirely on an animal diet. Nanook harpoons the seal and waits for the raw meat on which his wife and kiddies subsist. The entire family travels many miles in search of this game.

At night the family is sheltered in an igloo—a house of snow with a piece of ice for a window. It is erected in one hour.

In this home Nyla tends her dimpled babe. Naked, it gurgles its delight in the joy of living. And the temperature is below freezing even in an igloo.

Doubtless you have read of this life in books, but the drama of it all escapes cold type. The movie gives the story vitality. Here is a brave father eking out a living in desolation, facing the fiercest elements of nature.

Here is a mother with the hardihood to follow her mate thru all his adventures, to bear and nurture children where life seems, after all, to be a futile thing.

Certainly the Eskimo is the optimist eternal.

Nyla and Nanook, Eskimo co-stars in "Nanook of the North," a new film that presents the romance of the snow barrens.

a picturization of the famous stage play, is the special attraction today and all this week at the Lyric theatre. Lillian Gish and Richard Barthelmess are seen in important roles.

LYRIC

TODAY — AND ALL WEEK
D.W. GRIFFITH
presents
'WAY DOWN EAST'

Based on Wm. A. Deane's Famous Play by Lottie Blair Parker and J. R. Criswell
It's a simple story of plain folks—the greatest of all Griffith plays—uncommonly well done and with breath-taking effect.
Every audience has set spellbound through the unfolding of this great production.

With its humaneness and its story of unusual love, its thrills and its pathos, it stands alone in the field of spectacular pictures.

Keith Vaudeville and a Sheik Picture—Faurot

EACH week, it seems, the programs at the Faurot improve in scope and entertainment value. The bill of three Keith acts, being presented during the first half of this week, is quite complete, with a nice variety of material.

The Paramount Four, billed as the headline attraction, proves an extraordinarily pleasant male quartette, whose clever selections are extremely well rendered. Their offering is one of the best acts which has played here since the Keith policy of amateur vaudeville was adopted.

Simpson and Deane, presenting "Honky Tonky Town," have a laugh-compelling assortment of character and comedy songs, dances, etc., and a unique little opening skit that is delightful. The pair are also clever dancers and their act contains a soupcon of the Terpichorean art.

Jessie Miller, a versatile musician, opens the program with a well balanced program of cornet and piano selections. Her act is well staged and to music lovers, will prove a delight.

For the photoplay half of the bill, the Faurot presents "Arabian Love" with a new star, John Gilbert, in a regular sheik role. Much sand, caravans, fights, etc. showing the handsome Mr. Gilbert in a regular Valentino setting. And when it comes to wearing a turban, and climbing terraces, John could probably show Rodolph a thing or two, at that.

Two beautiful ladies, Miss Barbara La Marr and Miss Barbara Bedford lend ample support and are unusually decorative. In fact, the entire cast is of the finest, and if you can enter into the spirit of the thing, overlook the sticky sub-titles and a few minor flaws, you will, it is quite certain, derive a great deal of pleasure from the production. It has plenty of action, and a romance that is most satisfying. Mr. Gilbert, it is safe to predict, has a great future before him. Here's wishing him success!

SHORT SHAVINGS

W. T. Poage, motorcycle salesman has a coin collector friend who was showing his valuable collection to a young woman who reads French. She picked up one odd coin which had puzzled several collectors and read, "Good for five centimes when returned with the bottle."

E. A. Siferd, manager of the Postal Telegraph Co., reports his fat cat is exercising to reduce her weight. "Every day," he says "she goes in to the next yard and has the neighbor's dog chase her twice around the house."

Clem Thompson says he has trouble with his radio set. "As soon as the program starts our dog begins to bark at it," he says. "Then when we put him out he sits on the porch and howls."

Adrian McMurray, bank cashier at Wapakoneta, says he thinks there is no sense in the jokes about breakfast cereals. He got his own breakfast while his wife was away. "I made the mistake of putting cream on a saucer of savadum from my little girl's doll," he says, "and I detected the difference at the first mouthful."

DR. JOSEPHINE PEIRCE TO ADDRESS OSTEOPATHS IN CAMPAIGN, ILLINOIS

Dr. Josephine Peirce, 1064 W. Market-st., will go to Champaign, Ill., this week, where she will address the state meeting of osteopaths of Illinois.

Dr. Peirce was invited to have a place on the program some time ago. She will discuss a subject of vital interest to members of the osteopathic profession.

Dr. Peirce will return to Lima in time for the Tag Day which the Allen-Child Welfare association, of which she is president, will hold Saturday.

LACED SHOE TOO TIGHT; BLOOD POISON DEVELOPS IN ABRASION ON FOOT

Wilson T. Clements, 61, of 1427 E. High-st., is recovering at his home from an attack of blood poisoning, with which he has been afflicted for a week past.

Clements believes that he laced his shoe too tightly and that the skin was rubbed off his foot. Infection developed blood poisoning. At first it was feared amputation of the leg would be necessary.

POSTOFFICE HOURS FOR MEMORIAL DAY ANNOUNCED

Holiday hours will be observed at the Lima postoffice next Tuesday, Decoration Day.

A. E. Gale, postmaster, announces that money order, registry, stamp and general delivery windows will be open from 9 a. m. to 10 a. m. There will be no delivery by rural carriers. Mails will be made up and dispatched as usual. Collection of mail will be made at 5:45 a. m. and at 5 p. m.

Carriers and clerks who can possibly get away will be privileged by the postmaster to enjoy the day, it is announced.

WOMAN DIES IN WRICK DAYTON. Mrs. Mary Herr, 30, widow, Little York, was killed and Sallie Fox, 23, neighbor was seriously injured when Fox's automobile was struck by a Dayton, Covington and Piqua traction car 10 miles north of here.

DR. W. R. CLARK DIES EAST LIVERPOOL. Dr. William Ross Clark, 45, who practiced here for 25 years, died at his home at 10:30 p. m.

GIRLS DROP TOYS TO PUT UP RADIO SETS

Girls are laying aside their jacks and jumping ropes for radio.

They are vying with boys for honors as radio fans. They are making their own sets. And they're learning all about the new science, too.

School authorities in all parts of the country report interest in wireless not only by the boy pupils but by the girls as well. Y. M. C. A. radio schools also report several girl students in their classes.

Call-Letter System Helps Shorten Radio Messages

Even tho you know the wireless code, you may be puzzled by some of the signals being flashed from one station to another.

These signals, or letter combinations, form a separate call code and should be learned as thoroughly as the dot and dash system. They help to shorten messages between stations. Each signal, it will be noticed, begins with a Q. That is the introductory or warning letter for the actual message in the rest of the combination. A question mark after each combination changes its declaratory meaning to the corresponding question.

The abbreviations, or "calls," that are used most frequently among licensed amateurs and professional operators follow.

QRA—This is station.
QRH—My wave length is.
QRK—I am receiving well.
QRL—I am receiving badly. Please send 20 ... for adjustment.
QRM—I am being interfered with.

Eleanor Gould of Minneapolis, Minn., is only one of the many girls of the country who have taken up radio. She's 17, yet has just completed making her own crystal set. Now, she says, she's going to make a vacuum tube set.

Eleanor wound the coils, mounted the parts in an oak cabinet and even strung the aerial from the roof of her home.

It's one example of what girl fans have been doing thruout the country.

QRN—Atmospherics are very strong.
QRO—Increase power.
QRP—Decrease power.

PLATE—A wire or metal plate in a radio vacuum tube which receives the rectified current coming thru the grid and passes it on to the telephone head receivers. A battery of about 22 1-2 volts charges the plate with positive electricity so as to attract the negative electrons from the filament.

DYE FADED WRAP SKIRT, DRESS IN DIAMOND DYES

Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions so simple any woman can dye or tint her old worn, faded things new. Even if she has never dyed before, she can put a rich, fadeless color into shabby skirts, dresses, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, draperies, hangings, everything. Buy Diamond Dyes—no other kind—then perfect home dyeing is guaranteed. Just tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton, or mixed goods. Diamond Dyes never streak, spot, fade, or run.—Adv.

Mechanical Conditions Affecting Best Results From Gasoline

Running Gear

Automotive engineers estimate that only about 60 to 75% of the power actually developed by the automobile motor reaches the driving wheels and in overcoming the friction of the mechanism itself in motor and chassis. It is obvious therefore that a free running chassis will contribute to the efficiency of the car and conserve power—gasoline.

The entire chassis or running gear of a car should be inspected periodically to insure these conditions:

1. Correct adjustment and lubrication of all wheel bearings.
2. Correct lubrication of transmission gears. (Requires lighter lubricant in winter.)
3. Correct lubrication of universal joints.
4. Correct lubrication of driving and differential gears. (Requires lighter lubricant in winter.)
5. Correct adjustment of brakes to prevent dragging.

Gas-tight Combustion Chamber

A frequent cause of power waste and therefore of gasoline waste is found in the failure of the combustion chamber in the cylinder to completely hold the charge of gas when the piston comes up on the compression stroke. The modern automobile motor is a high compression motor and to prepare the charge for a pressure piston motor the gas is compressed to a pressure of from 65 to 70 pounds per square inch varying with different types of motors.
